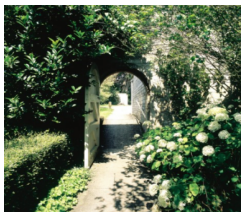
Deene Park
House and Gardens
Corby

Cost: £16 per person



Deene Park is a largely 16th Century house, privately owned, incorporating a medieval manor and has belonged to the Brudenell family since 1514. The house today is the home of Robert and Charlotte Brudenell and their son William. The house contains a collection of art, furniture, porcelain and a display of uniforms and memorabilia of the Crimean War. The house will be open for our group only. The gardens feature herbaceous borders, perennials, flowering shrubs and a grand parterre designed by the late David Hicks.

The Old Kitchen Tea Rooms is located in what was the old kitchen for the main house and is dominated by a wall-to-wall Victorian range. On offer are light lunches, cream teas, cakes and pastries, coffee/tea and snacks as well as the daily chef's specials.

On arrival we will have coffee/tea and biscuits before the house guided tour then there will be free time until we leave to come home at 4pm or thereabouts. Exact time advised on the day depending on weather.
